

THE LEARNERS LAB FOUNDATION (TLLF) PRIVACY POLICY

PRIVACY STATEMENT

Info Xchange, The TLLF Fiscal Sponsorship Program, The VPL™, our Virtual Private Lab/Library™, our partnership, and membership programs and other services are all exclusive supports designed, developed, offered, and delivered by The Learners Lab Foundation, Inc. (TLLF). The Learners Lab Foundation has established its privacy policy to ensure you are aware of how your information is protected, collected or used whether on or off our websites.

We reserve the right to modify or update this policy or any other policy as is deemed necessary. The Learners Lab Foundation will provide notice of materially significant changes to this privacy policy by posting notice on all The Learners Lab Foundation sites. All TLLF sites have been deemed PCI compliant and we have accorded our privacy and security access policies and practices to assure their equal compliance.

PRIVACY

Protecting your privacy

All data collected is the personal property of The Learners Lab Foundation. As such, it will not be shared, sold, or made available in any manner, with the exception of those resources for which we grant access to paid subscribers, or are required to do so by law.

While we cannot technologically guarantee that adverse events, security breaches and other like actions shall never occur, we can, will, and do guarantee that we constantly work to ensure we employ and implement preventive measures designed expressly for the purpose of attempting total blockage of such, and to minimize the adverse effect/impact should such a breach occur.

There are "NO" banner ads, pop ups, pop unders, ad words, or any other kind of commercial or marketing ads deployed from this or ANY website within the control of The Learners Lab Foundation portfolio of online products. And we further guarantee that:

- We "DO NOT" share your information with third or external parties for marketing purposes deployed from any of our websites.
- We "DO NOT" engage in cross-marketing or link-referral programs with other sites deployed from any of our websites.
- We "DO NOT" use tracking devices for marketing purposes ("cookies," "web beacons," single-pixel gifs) deployed from any of our websites.
- We "DO NOT" deploy communication solicitations in any form from any of our websites for marketing or any other related purpose(s),

...nor do we knowingly allow, contribute or encourage any of the above on our behalf from any entity to which we have a partnership or branding relationship.

The Learners Lab Foundation does not knowingly collect or accept any information from persons under the age of 13.

The Learners Lab Foundation may elect to provide link(s) external websites, understanding that those entices may have different privacy practices. HOWEVER, we "are not responsible for, nor at any time have any control or influence either directly or indirectly, over the privacy policies or practices of any external entity or third/external party website

We strongly encourage all visitors and customers and visitors to read "ALL" privacy policies of each website that visited or encountered, with the understanding that they visit and utilize those sites at their own risk."

DATA COLLECTION

Except for TLLF secure access, and/or subscription-based products and programs such as with InfoXchange our newswire service or The VPL™, our Virtual Private Lab/Library™ where the repository of confidential information is a given, TLLF data resources are accessed only a confined and select team of TLLF principles. We may at times collect or consolidate contact-related other information but only for the TLLF purpose of self-publishing, confirmation contact, billing, account managements, policy or program notification, or for other such information-gathering purpose that has resulted from a business transaction initiated by the source of said information. We reserve the right to collect such data should we develop and deploy supplemental, additional, new programs, policies, subscription or other email services, or in registering for a blogs, forums, private professional network, or other like offering that is hosted and controlled by and for The Learners Lab Foundation, its patrons, members, and stakeholders.

At this time, The Learners Lab Foundation does not collect or store credit card information, conduct direct card transactions online thru any of its website but instead performs those services thru the secure, PCI compliant environment or our Merchant Services Provider and RedFin. We do, however, reserve the right to do so at a later date for the purposes of accommodating new products, services, or programs thru its financial gateway as a meaning of collecting billables should it be appropriate to do so.

Should that change, we shall endeavor to protect the security of your payment information during any transmission by ensuring that our financial gateway provider is PCI Compliant to include the use of Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) technology and other verification protection technologies forthcoming for the present day. We do not collect personal information unless you choose to provide it in feedback or comments, or unless you contact us directly. Please do not post any personal information to forums or other mediums that has an inherent expectation of private should such mediums be developed. We reserve the right to collect billable information via corporate check and the financial gateway of our choosing that offers payments thru a variety of secure transaction options.

STORED DATA

We as sole owners of any data provided to us through "ANY" of our online products, repositories, and services, or through other means such as with direct billing, reserve the right to store client data in database systems under our control for said purposes, and even after "deletion," and to archived elsewhere to comply with historical, tax, legal, and customer follow-up needs.

RELEASE OF INFORMATION

The Learners Lab Foundation does and WILL NOT disclose any information about its customers, members, partners, donors, volunteers, or visitors unless required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such disclosure is reasonably necessary to respond to subpoenas, court orders, or other legal process.

The Learners Lab Foundation may also disclose information about its customers, members, partners, donors, volunteers, or visitors to law enforcement officers or other authorizes in the good faith belief that such disclosure is reasonably necessary to: enforce our Terms of Use; respond to claims that any posting or other content violates the rights of third-parties; or protect the rights, property, or personal safety of The Learners Lab Foundation, its stakeholders, visitors, or the public at large.
